Every effort should be made to have any medications given at home. If this is not possible, remember that ALL medications, including non-prescription medications (Tylenol, Advil, cold medicines sent from home), require written authorization from a doctor and/or parent. Consent forms can be obtained in the health office or sent home with your child upon request. Please remember the medication must be brought to the nurse in the original labeled container.

*For your child's safety, we ask that you let the teacher know of any changes in your child's after-school transportation plans with a written, dated note.
- Conferences: Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled twice per year, once in the fall and once in the spring. Parents will receive an email for our online sign ups in the fall and spring. Of course, if there are concerns, you are encouraged to make an appointment to visit with your child's teacher before or after school.
- Custodial Rights: Regardless of custody arrangements, parents have rights to information regarding their child's school progress. Upon request, a noncustodial parent has the right of access to school records and information, to attend conferences, and to be informed of his/her child's welfare and educational status, unless a court order states otherwise. The school assumes there is no court order unless one is filed with the school.
- Labeling: Please label all your child's belongings and clothing, including hats, mittens, boots, backpacks, lunch boxes, and other personal items.
